

Vermont's Northeast Kingdom 5-day Tour

Hiking Highlights:

Our hikes showcase the deep forests, rolling hills, low mountains and the many lakes of Vermont's Northeast Kingdom. Our inns along the way are the comfortable and relaxed Highland Lodge in Greensboro and The Stowehof Inn & Resort in Stowe. The Stowehof sits on 30 spectacular acres and boasts some of the finest views in the northeast while The Highland Lodge, nestled in the heart of the Northeast Kingdom on crystal-clear Caspian Lake, has been described by Vermont Magazine as, "old-fashioned perfection".

Just outside the front door of the Highland Lodge is a network of trails that lead to the top of beautiful Barr Hill. These lovely trails pass through lush green forests and beautiful views of classic Vermont farmland. In the afternoon, after a lunch near the shores of Caspian Lake, we hike to the impressive views from Nichols Ledge, overlooking Nichols Pond. This area is home to loons and peregrine falcons. Other walks lead along the pastoral country lanes to the village of Cabot and its famous creamery.

Another day takes us to Groton State Forest with its pristine lakes and mountain views of the Northeast Kingdom. Big Deer Mountain and Owl's Head offer great hikes to beautiful viewpoints, and lunch on the shores of Osmore Pond is simply magic!

The most popular area of the Kingdom is the beautiful Lake Willoughby region. There is no shortage of challenging trails or rambling walks in this region of extensive forests and crystal clear lakes. Trails lead to the summits of dramatic peaks like Mount Pisgah, Mount Hor, or the great scramble up Wheeler Mountain. The actual hikes we choose depend on the group needs and the weather.

As we head towards the town of Stowe for our last two nights, we pass by Mount Elmore and the lake of the same name. The 3 mile moderate hike to the summit offers some fine views of the north country. In the afternoon, one can scramble to the top of Elmore to climb the restored fire tower, and hike along the ridge trail for more great views, or choose to visit the beautiful Moss Glen Falls.

On our final day, weather permitting, we hike along the ridgetop of Mount Mansfield, Vermont's highest peak. With nearly the entire trail above treeline, the views from this exposed summit are breathtaking, offering glimpses of New York, New Hampshire and Canada. Sometimes, however, the weather is inhospitable up there, so we may hike along the trails of nearby Nebraska Notch or the gentle footpaths that lead through Wiesner Woods right out of the front door of the inn!

Lunch is on the lawn at The Stowehof before our return to Burlington International Airport by 3:00 pm.

Note: This itinerary may change depending on weather, needs of the group, etc.
